

Interactive Journaling® Live Trainings

Two-day Implementation Training (13 CEUs)

Make the most out of your investment in the curriculum with Implementation Training to provide structure and consistency to your programs and services. During these two-day, experiential trainings, participants identify evidence-based features of Interactive Journaling® and prepare to implement the curricula in their service delivery, including case planning, documentation, and individual and group sessions.

Bring our training experts to your facility for two days, or come join us at our lively Carson City office, and you'll be ready to put evidence-based behavior change tools into action.

Three-day Training for Trainers (19.5 CEUs)

You're looking to transform members of your staff into effective trainers...

Over the course of three days, participants develop a comprehensive skill set for effectively training others in your organization on the best in behavior change principles and the use of the full array of The Change Companies®' resources. Participant trainers are immersed in a process-oriented approach anchored in adult learning principles.

Participants will benefit from an engaging, experiential training that focuses on skills for training other members of your organization. Training for Trainers includes a focus on content knowledge, strategies for teaching and coaching, and many opportunities for skill practice. Participants will develop a competency with content and knowledge of the best learning principles and training techniques for successfully delivering this knowledge to others in their organization. Because of our experiential approach, participants leave this training with strategies essential for effective training delivery. Additionally, all participants receive a toolkit that includes lesson plans, PowerPoint slides and handouts for on-site staff training.

The best materials and content mean little if they are not delivered effectively. Learn leading strategies for teaching and training through a Training for Trainers session that uses Dr. Malcolm Knowles' principles for adult learning.
